Two days ago I visited three museums, and one of them was free. So, now I am going to explain, why paying for admission is very important for people.

To my mind, we should not forget, that all jobs must be paid. There are a lot of people who work in different social places (like museums, theatres, parks and so on), and they spend a lot of time and physical and mental health to make their work better. So, their salary connects with the price of the tickets.

Moreover, I have understood, that the best museums are usually with the high price, too. Because only there you can find something really interesting, useful and important for your mind.

When I was in the free museum, there were a lot of people and it was so noisy. It is also connected with the free entrance. A lot of many people (and, of course, teenagers) visited such places just to spend their free time.

But we shouldn't forget, that some people haven't any money for paying for the tickets. I guess, that in this case free museums without ~~charge~~ ticket (free museum) are really great opportunities for this problem.

Talking about my experience, I don't prefer free museums because for me it is boring and useless. Moreover, I have enough money for visiting better ~~expensive~~ places with really interesting things.
