Many people have a question: should they buy for museum ticket or no.

Personally, I think that visitors of the Museums are required to pay for the ticket. Yes, art is very important in our life ~~but~~ and it ~~should~~ could be more affordable to everyone. But workers of museums need their payments. Museums provide their visitors with light, warmth and guides. That is what we are paying for. Artists, sculptors, architectures should be payed to. They provide museums with their arts. I think that people must be payed for ~~their~~ <sup>their</sup> work. There is another point of view. Some people believe that art must be free and affordable. And this point of view is right too. Everyone should be able to visit museums. But not everyone has money for this. That is why free museums exist. Often these museums belong to the government and are provided by it. It is a good opportunity for everyone who want to be more close to art to do it.

Payed museums and free museums are very similar. They both have pieces of arts, guides and special equipments. But sometimes they may have different kinds of art. Some museum have more "old" stuff, for example different ancient things, clothes of the xixth century. Often this type of art belongs to free museums.

As for payed museums, they more often have various painting, sculptures and other pieces of art that belong to great artists or modern artists of our time.

At the begining I want to say that everyone decides which museum to visit by their own. As for me, I would rather go to payed museum of modern art and support artists.
