Writing

To watch or not to watch?

It's a good idea to make a film based on book? Many people consider that books give us diverse details, for example, some monologues or dialogs with accurate words while film reflects the main sense which directors want to give their watchers.

Book of famous writer M. Bulgakov "Master and Margarita," can have a perfect screen version. In the first part of this novel author describe Moscow in 1930th years. There are a lot of greedy people here. Voland and his team come to this city for revealing all human's awful qualities and for revenge, because this people are robbers or crimes, so they must have a punishment. The second part of this book reflects a big love of two heroes. Margarita turned to witch to save her love. She ~~must~~ had to deal with challenging ~~problems~~ tasks of Voland. She managed to all difficult problems which stood on her way.

Actually, it's a really hard work to make a film from such great book. Filmmakers can face to some problems and issues. The atmosphere of the Old Moscow plays a crucial role in the book, so filmmakers must understand that it will be hard to choose necessary locations. Besides, average film's duration is about two hours, so filmmakers must reflect all significant moments, like meeting Master and Margarita, only in two hours. The main thing is a good cast. Every actor must have a professional acting skills, because without them watchers ~~can't~~ won't understand what emotions actor want to show.

There is no doubt, that it's a great idea to make a screen version of book "Master and Margarita". People of all ages could watch this film and enjoy the atmosphere of the Old Moscow. Besides, for some people it can be difficult to read books and to fantasy moments, so film is a perfect solution
