Writing

Hard life of Alex.

I would like to write a story about Alex. Alex had a lot of problems in his life. His personality is considered to be very controversial, for some people he is a man who needs help for others he is a villain who should be executed.

I think that Alex deserves to be imprisoned or punished for his attitudes but not to be a rat for experiments.

My parents told me that Alex went through agony and pain when insidious scientists tried a new method of curing his aggressive behavior. Thanks to this curative the young man becomes a normal person who could not hurt a fly. However, the dangerous scary part of it is that he did not lose the wish of killing and beating people. He felt really really sick when an atrocious thought popped in his mind. His body started being numb and he had nausea. Some times later he met his old friends who turned on him because Alex was vulnerable. They ~~was~~ almost killed him and he spent 2 months in the hospital.

As my uncle told me Alex stopped thinking about beating people up and he found a job. Scientists understood that this kind of curative is dangerous and stopped using it. Now Alex is married and have two children. One of his children is a girl. She fights against injustice.
